

The CUNY UnTechnology UnConference

Wednesday, April 13, 2016, 10-4

Macaulay Honors College, 35 W 67 Street

When is a conference not a conference? When is technology not technology?

The fourth annual CUNY Eportfolio and Academic Technology Symposium will be a new model.

This year we are going beyond eportfolios, beyond the idea of a conference.

What does it take to really have, to really support, to really use, to really expand, our ideas of educational technology?

Join us to produce a set of recommendations and broader visions that we can bring back to the Committee on Academic Technology...and beyond.

This will not be a “conference” in the usual sense, but an active collaboration of colleagues from across CUNY. Rather than presentations, we will focus on discussion and sharing to explore the various contexts, challenges, and solutions CUNY campuses are using to approach technology for teaching, learning, research and assessment—and more!

We need to hear your voice and want to invite you to join the conversation!

macaulay.cuny.edu/community/eportfolio-symposium/to register

Refreshments, lunch and supplies WILL be provided, thanks to a generous grant from the Eugene Walters Family Foundation!